SUPPLEMENT

1. Maj. Gen. Branko Obradovic, former chief of the artillery arm of the Ministry of National Defense, has left this post and is at Zagreb in an unknown capacity. 25X1A6a

( [REDACTED] ) Obradovic has been previously reported both as Deputy Commander and as Chief of Staff of the Second Army at Zagreb.

2. Colonel Dusan Zeljkovic, career officer of artillery in the Royal Yugoslav Army, has replaced Obradovic as chief of the artillery arm in the Ministry of National Defense. Colonel Zeljkovic, a native of Banja Luka, did not advance with his class by reason of disciplinary punishments. In 1940 he held the rank of lieutenant while other members of his class were majors.
3. Major Misa Lakić has become the chief of the personnel section of the Ministry of National Defense. She has been a fighting partisan since 1942 and is said to be very influential in the Ministry. Lt. Gen. Ivan Gornjak, former Inspector of Personnel of the Supreme Command, has assumed the post of Adjutant of the Ministry of National Defense.
